new university

Buckinghamshire New University has a first class reputation for providing education and training in the areas of dance, dance fitness and performing arts. Following the recent redevelopment of our High Wycombe Campus, the University has an impressive range of production-based facilities including dance studios, drama studios and related film/TV/audio and music production spaces

Senior Lecturer in Dance or Dance and Fitness

£34,611 - £43,845 per annum
Full Time or Part Time considered

This is an opportunity for a proactive candidate with a background in dance or dance and fitness, to be the course leader for the varied dance curriculum within the faculty. The current portfolio includes an established FD in Dance Teaching, a top up in Professional Dance Development and two new Degrees in Dance Performance and Dance & Fitness. You will already hold a first degree in a related discipline, and a postgraduate degree or equivalent experience and professional qualifications will also be essential.

You will be expected to contribute to dissertation/project supervision, along with all other aspects of student support, administration, research and scholarly activity undertaken at the University.
